stories of Ireland

A Week in Winter

MAEVE BINCHY, 2013, FIC NEW BOOKS BINCHY

Stoneybridge is a small town on the west coast of Ireland. When Chicky Starr decides to take an old, decaying mansion set high on the cliffs overlooking the Atlantic Ocean and turn it into a restful place for a holiday by the sea, everyone thinks she is crazy. Helped by Rigger (a bad boy turned good who is handy around the place) and Orla, her niece (a whiz at business), Chicky is finally ready to welcome the first guests to Stone House.

City of Bohane: a novel

KEVIN BARRY, 2011, FIC BARRY

A tale set in a near-future coastal Ireland finds the long-time rule of dapper godfather Logan Hartnett threatened by the return of an old nemesis, the ambitions of once-trusted henchmen, and his wife's request for him to abandon his life of crime.

The Dead Republic

RODDY DOYLE, 2010, FIC DOYLE

Irish rebel Henry Smart unsuccessfully collaborates with a legendary director before taking work as a caretaker at a Dublin boys' school, where he meets a woman who may be his long-lost wife.

Emerald Germs of Ireland

PAT MCCABE, 2001, FIC MCCABE

A chilling novel follows a middle-aged man as he descends into madness and embarks on a homicidal rampage sparked by matricide and the persistent interference of his small-town neighbors.

Haunted Ground

ERIN HART, 2003, FIC HART

The Irish landscape holds secrets past and present as archaeologist Cormac O'Callaghan and pathologist Nora Gavin encounter a mystery when a decapitated woman is found in the bogs who may be related to a recent mother/child disappearance.

Ireland: a novel

FRANK DELANEY, 2005, FIC DELANEY

An epic tale-within-a-tale based on the history of Ireland finds a traditional wandering storyteller revealing his life experiences while forging a poignant new relationship in the home of an eight year old boy.

The Lace makers of Glenmara: a novel

HELEN DORAN BARBIERI, 2009, FIC BARBIERI

Fleeing to Ireland in the wake of a failed relationship, fashion designer Kate Robinson finds herself in a coastal Gaelic village and bonds with the members of a lace-making society, through whom she finds healing by listening to their stories of loss and suffering.

The Mammy

BRENDAN O'CARROLL, 1999, FIC OCARROLL

Agnes Browne faces the hardships and rewards of raising seven children on her own in a 1960s working-class Dublin neighborhood.

My Dream of You

NUALA O'FAOLAIN, 2001, FIC OFAOLAIN

As Kathleen de Burca, an Irish travel writer based in London, faces the realities of a milestone birthday and sets out for Ireland to discover the truth about a scandalous love affair that took place between the wife of an English landlord and an Irish servant during the potato famine, she uncovers not only the complex mysteries of love but confronts a fateful decision that could change her own life forever.

Wild Cats and Colleens

MORAG PRUNTY, 2001, FIC PRUNTY

After Irish-American billionaire Xavier Power puts out an advertisement seeking an Irish wife, he finds more than he bargains for with public relations agent Laura, businesswoman Gloria, and journalist Sandy.
